Roads in British Columbia.

The freezing up of Fraser River and the Harrison-Lillooet Lakes this winter brings under notice more prominently than ever the necessity of trunk roads from the seaboard to the interior. Two months has elapsed since communication has been virtually stopped between New Westminster and the upper country. A few persons have come down from Lillooet and from Lytton; a like number has gone up; but no supplies. For all practical purposes the communications are stopped. Even remittances, though on hand, cannot be forwarded from the interior. The risk of traveling on the ice is too great. Such an embargo on our trade is severely felt; and consequently it should be a primary object to obviate in future so serious a drawback. Unusually severe as the winter has been, it has not been half as severe as the generality of winters in Canada and the Northern States. Communications by land are not interrupted there in winter; which is owing to main trunk roads radiating from all the principal towns and seaports into the interior. The severity of our climate presents no such obstacles as it does there; but it presents an obstacle sufficiently formidable to interest all who live here as well as all who reside in the interior towns and districts of British Columbia, in the opening of trunk roads from the seaboard to the interior. Fraser River when not frozen up is the only channel by which one can reach Yale or Douglas. To reach those points with supplies when it is frozen up is then the first object to secure. In the very nature of things—whether coast routes be opened or not—there has to be a wagon road from New Westminster up the Fraser. No other means can overcome the difficulty—can facilitate travel or throw supplies into the Thompson River country during a severe winter like this. Whether such a road should be pushed through to Douglas as well as Hope and Yale is a question for the future to settle. But there is this about the matter, that the Yale route offers more advantages for a winter road than Douglas, taking the present winter as the standard. All the lakes on the Harrison-Lillooet route we are informed are frozen up. Consequently to reach Lillooet a road along their borders would have to be constructed. As the distance at any time is considerably greater than way than via Yale, it is a very natural conclusion that the Yale route would be the proper one over which to construct a trunk line from the mouth of Fraser River to the interior. It is self-evident that such a route must be opened. Uninterrupted communication with the seaboard and the interior is a matter that cannot be overlooked; and as there are physical impossibilities standing in the way of ever providing any other route to the central and southern portion of British Columbia, it is only a matter when it will be opened. Yet that time may be hastened or delayed by those in power, and to a greater or lesser extent by the condition of the revenue.

If Fraser River be the natural line for a winter wagon road to Central and Southern British Columbia, it is equally clear that Bentinck Arm and Bute Inlet will prove the shortest routes to the Northern mines. The distance from either of those points to Alexandria is scarcely double what it is from New Westminster to Yale or Douglas; consequently, if we keep in view a winter road—one over which stages and loaded teams can pass with passengers and supplies on the snow—the competition by the Fraser River route would be an impossibility, so far as supplying the Cariboo country is concerned. Likewise between Bute Inlet and Bentinck Arm, the advantage would be with the former, if we regard Victoria as the supplying point; and we have not a shadow of doubt but it will always prove such to British Columbia. The distance from Victoria to Bute Inlet, not being greater than half the distance from here to Bentinck Arm, gives the Bute Inlet route an advantage over its northern rival that it will be impossible to overcome. There is this to be said about these rival coast routes—the Bentinck Arm route has been explored by several parties and said to be perfectly practicable; all that it requires is engineers, laborers, and money to put it in order and make it available.

On the contrary, Bute Inlet has not yet been explored all the way through by competent parties starting from the coast or from the interior. Enough exploration, however, has been done from both ends of the route to leave little doubt as to the feasibility of constructing a practical road. And if we regard it from a Victoria point of view, it is unquestionably the interest of this place to promote its construction in preference to Bentinck Arm. The latter may draw supplies from abroad without touching here, though the tendency of credit connections will be to render it tributary to this place. Bute Inlet must, as a matter of course, be supplied from here. In view, then, of such winters as the present, with a large population in the interior of British Columbia, we regard the opening of roads—not pack trails—from the seaboard via Yale, Bute Inlet and Bentinck Arm, as a matter of public necessity. Trade with the interior cannot be allowed to come to a stand-still, nor travel stopped, by the freezing up of Fraser River. Such an embargo has to be met by enterprise, capital, and engineering skill; and if met by them it will be overcome, and interrupted communication be ever after unknown.

Snow on the Northern Coast.

VICTORIA, March 5th, 1862.
EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—I have been informed by a very intelligent Indian who has just arrived from Fort Simpson, that all that section of country is covered with snow to the depth of several feet. He states that it will be impossible for either white men or Indians to work the ground for at least four or five weeks. I therefore would advise all those men who intend to visit the Bentinck Arm or the Stikkeen River not to leave for those places before the 10th of April.

THE LAST DEBTOR.—The arrest of the debtor on Tuesday last was through a judgment obtained in our Supreme Court under a California judgment sent up from below for collection. The judgment was procured here about ten months ago, and had the commencement of the suit been delayed for a couple of months, it never could have been entertained in a Vancouver Island Court at all, as the "Limitation of Foreign Actions" Act effectually bars all such suits here. In fact it was the procurement of this very judgment which caused that Act to be introduced in our Legislature. After judgment had been obtained, the bankrupt made application for the benefit of the English Bankruptcy Law, and filed a petition before the Chief Justice; but owing to the introduction and passage by the House of Assembly of the local Bankruptcy Act, no further action was had pending the arrival of the 1st of March—the day on which the new law came into force. On the day on which the old Act went out and the new Act came in, the bankrupt was unable to find time to prepare a statement of his assets, which the law requires to be presented at the same time that the petition is filed; and so for three days afterwards, when on Tuesday a shrewd solicitor for the California creditor, finding that the petition had not been filed, caused his arrest. How long he will have to lie in prison, none but the Chief Justice or the lawyers can say; but in the meantime his family is deprived of his protection and support; his business is suffering for want of a proper person to attend to it; and his credit has sustained an almost irreparable blow. The whole proceeding seems a heartless one and the advantage taken unfair. We marvel that the Chief Justice, when applied to for the writ, did not refuse to allow it to issue until the intending bankrupt had first received due notice and had been given an opportunity to file his petition under the new Act. It may be said that he would have stretched his authority had he done so; but we ask every candid man to look at the case in all its bearings and then say, if he can, that our Supreme Judge has acted rightly.

AN INDIAN BURGLAR.—Look to your door fastenings. On Tuesday night, at 12 o'clock, officer Shepard captured a rascally redskin of the Hydah tribe with a dirty bag on his back, containing candles, soda-water, apples, sarsaparilla, and many other trifling articles, which, it was subsequently ascertained, he had stolen from the Fort street dance-house. An examination in the Police Court revealed the fact that the Siwash was one of a gang of burglars who have skeleton keys in their possession with which they unlock doors and plunder at their leisure. He was committed to the tender mercies of the chain-gang guard for the space of a moon. Householders should take the precaution to bolt as well as lock their doors before retiring to rest.

ALL OUT.—The stocks of flour at Hope and Yale are reported to have given entirely out, and the people are said to subsist on barley bread and China rice in lieu of the wheat staff on which they had been accustomed to lean. There are several tons of flour stored at Chapman's Bar, twelve miles above Yale, but owing to the state of the trail, from snow and ice, we suppose that it has been found impossible to pack any down.

ARRIVAL OF THE "EMILY HARRIS."—The steamer Emily Harris, Capt. Court, from Burrard's Inlet on Tuesday morning, arrived at noon yesterday, with 15 passengers and a small amount of gold dust. Ballou's Express from New Westminster came down, but the news is nix. The river remains in the same condition as at date of previous report. Business dull. The snow is slowly disappearing.

HOME AGAIN.—The theatrical company returned yesterday from New Westminster, and, we learn, will open under the auspices of the "Veteran" at the Victoria Theatre in a day or two. They report full houses every night at the metropolis of British Columbia. We sincerely hope that they may meet with like luck here.

POLICE COURT.—Four cases were on the docket yesterday morning, viz: A sailor, a capper and miner, and a civilian, for drunkenness; and an Indian burglar. The drunks were each lightly dealt with and discharged, and the Indian was sent to adorn the chain gang for a moon.

PUBLIC CONVENIENCE.—The new side walk on Fort street, from Commercial Row to Government street, is a great public convenience as well as an improvement to the property in front of which it has been laid.

MR. SANDRIE'S BALL.—The ball for the benefit of Mr. Sandrie, on Tuesday evening, was a complete success. About fifty couples were present and the enjoyment was continued until the morning had well advanced.

THE STEAMER ELIZA ANDERSON is not yet fairly on the ways at Scorgie & Bolton's shipyard.

AUCTION.—At the Hudson Bay Company's wharf, this morning at 11 o'clock, Mr. McCrea will sell the sloop Lady Franklin; also, at salesroom on Wharf street, groceries, provisions, clothing, &c.

A SERIOUS AFFAIR.—Last evening, at 6 o'clock, a young man named Hanson Tilton entered Lovett's Bank Exchange Saloon in company with several friends and called for drinks. He was waited upon by the proprietor, who placed a number of glasses on the bar, when Tilton suddenly drew them together and broke three or four. Mr. Lovett remonstrated and told him that he never permitted such conduct in his house, whereupon Tilton stepped back from the bar, and drawing a derringier pistol, exclaimed, "You s— of a b—, I'll shoot you!" His friends seized him before he could carry the threat into execution, and an officer was sent for, by whom he was taken into custody. Tilton is quite respectably connected, and has been mining at Cariboo. He is usually very quiet and orderly, and his outrageous conduct on this occasion is attributed to an over-supply of the ardent.

The steamer Otter will leave for Burrard's Inlet at 7 o'clock this morning.

THE "EVIL EYE" IN IRELAND.—An extraordinary assault case was heard at Mitchelstown the other day. A man named Thomas Quinn, stated that he was sent for by John Condon, John Condon, jun., and Mrs. Condon—the defendants in the case—to their house, where he went, and that the defendants dragged him into the pigsty in the yard and assaulted him; that they insisted on his spitting on three large pigs which they were preparing for market, alleging that complainant had some days previously cast an evil eye on the pigs, and by some witchcraft or necromancy prevented them from using their food for seven days. Sub constable Macauley deposed that he was sent for to compel Quinn to remove the charm from the pigs. Mr. O'Mara: My defence is, that the defendants state most emphatically that complainant came to their house, stood over their pigs, and by some mysterious or unholy spell or influence prevented them from using food for seven days. Your Worship may perceive on looking at Quinn's countenance, he has an evil eye. (Loud laughter.) The defendants sent for him to remove the evil he had done, and sent for the police to induce him to do so. Quinn refused, and said, "Go herd them to the d—!" Defendants then went to some ancient prophet or soothsayer to consult him on the matter, who directed them to procure Quinn's stockings and pocket-handkerchief and boil them, and give the water to the pigs. Defendants, Condon, being brother to Quinn's wife, actually got the stockings boiled, and gave the water to the pigs, and they were as voracious as hawks insatiate. (Laughter.) Mr. Browne—It is a most sad and deplorable exhibition to see persons of your age so utterly ignorant as to believe in the odious superstition which you seem to labor under in this case, as stated by your attorney. Let each of the defendants be fined—John Condon 2s. 6d. his son 1s., and wife 1s. and costs.—Cork Examiner.

THE DISUNITED STATES OF AMERICA. The Athenaeum of Saturday publishes a letter, occupying three of its pages, addressed from Richmond, Virginia, by Capt. Maury to Rear Admiral Fitzroy, purporting to give an impartial history of the secession. The language used is of the strongest possible character, and instinct with the very spirit of bitterness towards the North. The great offence of the North is, that it had threatened to overturn the institution of slavery.

"Though," he says, "not so mighty in numbers nor so rich in warlike supplies as the enemy, we are 8,000,000 of people thrice armed, in that our quarrels are just. Fighting for our homes, we are mighty in battle. In mere lust the enemy fights for power and conquest; we, for fireside, the graves of our fathers, dear life, and all that is precious to the heart and to civilization. Our cause is holy; theirs, hellish. We cannot, we will not be subjugated. In the week the clergy are, of their own free will, drilled and being drilled to arms; their churches are given up to the women, who, with needles and sewing machines, congregate there to make clothing for the soldiers. On Sundays, from the pulpit, the holiness of the war and the righteousness of our cause are preached to the people. In battles, you find clergymen among the foremost of the fight. We have on our side a bishop for a general, holy divines for colonels, majors, captains, and soldiers in the ranks. Never was a people more united and in earnest than the people of the Confederate States are at this moment."—Weekly Times.

ROMANTIC SUICIDE.—On the 1st of December a romantic suicide occurred at Naples. In 1860, a Miss Gray, aged 28, became smitten with the charms of a gay young buck with the frosts of 62 winters on his head, named Kenrick, and eloped with him to Italy. Mr. Kenrick was a married man, and was highly connected in England, where he had squandered property worth £100,000. The guilty pair continued to live together until the 1st of last December, when finding themselves heavily in debt, with no prospect of obtaining relief, they walked arm in arm to the public gardens of the Villa Reale on the seashore, the cafe being still open, they took a glass of rum or rosolio. They then climbed over the low wall of the villa, where a semi circular space overlooking the sea is furnished with stone seats, and descended on the beach, where Miss Gray tied her dress round her ankles and filled it from the waist with sand, Mr. Kenrick effecting the same purpose by filling the bosom of his shirt, his waistcoat, and coat sleeves with sand and stones. Miss Gray supplying the necessary strings and tapes from her own dress. They then tied themselves together round the waist with their pocket handkerchiefs, and deliberately lay down to die in the sea, which at that point is not more than two or three feet deep. They had the resolution to endure suffocation, and their corpses were seen in the transparent water next morning at daybreak by a fisherman, who having apprised the authorities, measures were taken to establish their identity and, after a post mortem examination, to show whether they had taken poison or not, they were interred in the English burying ground.

A CAMBRIDGE CLERGYMAN AND DEERFOOT.—The publication in the papers of the fact, that on Sunday the 8th of December, Deerfoot, the Seneca Indian, was invited to dine in the hall of Trinity College Cambridge, seems to have produced some stir, and the Rev. W. J. Beaumont has felt it incumbent upon him to publish a letter, in which he observes—"Deerfoot was my guest, and was introduced on my sole responsibility, without the knowledge, and as I have since learned, against the wish of the Fellows. With the question between the college and myself, I do not think the public are concerned; but on my own behalf, I wish to make known the reasons subjoined:—1. Deerfoot was represented to me as a religious man. In confirmation of this, I may mention that he was at church in the morning, and at the King's Chapel in the afternoon, and that he is in constant communication with the missionaries who instructed him in his own country. 2. He is a stranger in a foreign land. Having experienced the value of sympathy myself when far away from home and friends, I felt that it was a Christian act to show kindness to one in similar circumstances. 3. He has attained considerable distinction in the line which he has taken, and is to my mind worthy of commendation. Whoever excels his fellow-man, even in any accomplishment, either of body or of mind, (provided that the exercise of it be not wrong or wicked) is, in my opinion, deserving of a certain degree of admiration. 4. I believe we should do better, if we associated more with persons in a different rank of life, whose character is good, and less with those of the same rank whose character is notoriously bad. Unless I heard more to the disparagement of Deerfoot's character than I ever have heard, I should not shrink from asking him to my own rooms. I may state, in conclusion, that I never spoke to Deerfoot before last Sunday, and very probably may never speak to him again."

THE ARMING OF MERCHANT SHIPS.—Her Majesty's Government have determined, it appears, to arm the steamers of the Peninsular and Oriental Company, and other mail contract packets, so as to render them fully capable of defence against the attacks of privateers, in the event of a war with America. The Peninsular and Oriental Company have sent, in consequence a requisition for a considerable amount of ordnance stores. This Company possess about fifty vessels, and most of them can carry an armament of six heavy guns, including two 40-pounder Armstrong guns, with rifles, revolvers, cutlasses, and boarding pikes for crews of about 150 men and officers of each ship. With armaments and crews to this extent, not taking into account the number of naval and military passengers usually carried, and who will doubtless be willing to give their assistance, these vessels would not only take good care of themselves, but if opportunity offered, would be ready to act upon the offensive. The same company are having their officers and men drilled both in gunnery and rifle practice.—Daily News.

A WILD BEAST FIGHT.—On the 21st Dec., after the exhibition had closed, a Bengal tiger in Edmond's menagerie, which is at present at Newcastle, broke through a wooden partition into an adjoining cage containing a panther, with which he engaged in a terrible combat. The tiger was strongly belaboured with a view to driving him back into his compartment and rescuing the panther from his clutches. These means, however, only exasperated the beast still further, and after a fearful fight of ten minutes' duration, he succeeded in seizing the exhausted panther by the throat, and held him with bull-dog tenacity until he was dead. The tiger then, as if satisfied that his work was completed, walked quietly into his own compartment, and allowed a new partition board to be thrust between himself and the body of his vanquished antagonist.—London Times.

THE GAZETTE OF DANUBE STATES that the manufacture of muskets in Lower Austria has more than doubled during the last four years. In 1857 the value of those made amounted to 2 1/2 millions of florins, and in 1860 to 4 3/5 millions.—In 1861 there were manufactured 157,631 infantry muskets, 7125 for special corps, and 41,945 rifles. There were also made by seventeen manufacturers 3384 infantry sabres and 24,054 cavalry sabres, of a total value of 174,400 florins.

THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE on the reduction of the expenses of the Government expect to make a reduction of about $4,000,000 in the army roll, $200,000 or $300,000 in the expenses of Congress, and large amounts in the matter of printing and the navy; also in the United States courts of law, and collection of customs, etc., at New York and other large cities. The whole amount of the matter is, that there will be introduced a series of measures to bring about economy.—American Ez.

AN IRISHMAN on being asked why he wore his stockings wrong side out replied: "Because there is a hole on the other side of 'em."

PATRIOTIC COUNSELLORS.—When the news of the determination of the English Government in the Mason and Slidell case reached Toronto, the City Council passed a series of loyal resolutions to do all in their power to encourage the volunteer movement, and concluded their proceedings by singing "God save the Queen."

THE COUNTIES OF ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI, and Louisiana, nearest to Ship Island, contained in 1850, 169,450 whites and 59,635 blacks, and their product was 3,154 bales of cotton and 2,200,925 pounds of rice.

COL. HARVEY BROWN, the officer in chief command at Fort Pickens, is a native of New Jersey, and is between sixty and seventy years of age. He was admitted as a cadet at West Point in the year 1814, and, when appointed to the army, he stood sixth in his class.

THE WORLD'S FRIEND
Holloway's Ointment.

A Cure for Piles and Fistulas.
Inflammation of sensitive parts, piles, fistulas, and such like painful diseases may be promptly relieved, and ultimately cured, by the proper and diligent use of this cooling and healing Ointment, whose action should, in such cases, be assisted by judicious doses of Pils: are many days have elapsed the anxious patient will experience a wonderful degree of ease from this treatment. They are equally suitable to both sexes, and all ages.

Coughs, Colds, and Asthma.
These complaints of the chest come on with alarming frequency. The Ointment should assiduously be rubbed at least twice a day on the chest and between the shoulders, where the violence of all symptoms will gradually give way, the breathing become longer and the oppression less. No medicine is more efficient in chest complaints, none can be used with equal safety and certainty. Both Pills and Ointment are accompanied by very clear and simple directions for using them.

A Man who refused to have his Leg off.
"From the Kilrush Advertiser, June 2nd, 1860."
BENJAMIN COX, Esquire, Magistrate, said in the Board Room at Kilrush, that he knew a man who had been in the Infirmary and was actually turned out as incurable, on his way home to Kilrush, he purchased at Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which, for as he said, it could not be worse with him. This man, said Mr. Cox, became by their use as sound and as healthy as any man in the room. These celebrated Pills and Ointment will cure any wound, sore, or ulcer, however long standing, if properly used according to the printed directions.

Gout and Rheumatism.
The essence of these diseases lies in the blood, which has, flowing through each vessel, the purifying poison, which irritates and inflames every tissue it comes in contact with, and produces the hot, swollen, elastic enlargement about the joints so characteristic of gouty diseases. The philosophy of cure consists in overcoming this depravity in the blood, which is effected by the use of the Pills and Ointment. When rubbed upon the skin, penetrates the system through the pores, acts in unison with the Pills, and soon effects a cure.

Dropsy, Swollen Legs or Ankles.
The various kinds of dropsy, whether windy or watery, arise from some obstruction to the free circulation through the blood vessels or lymphatics, or depend on the inflamed state of some of the surfaces. Holloway's remedies, of which the efficacy cannot be exaggerated, act directly upon the blood, the absorbents and secretions, with a power that no dropsy, however inveterate, can long resist. They regulate the proper flow of blood to every organ, and purify the blood, so that the system is able to perform its function, yet potent as they are for good, they are powerless for evil. They do not contain mercury or any noxious substances. They act safely and certainly.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, and Old Ulcers.
This invaluable Ointment was never known to fail in the cure of any wound, any sore, or any ulcer, as can be proved by innumerable testimonials from persons who had been discharged from Hospitals as incurable, and yet by perseverance they have been made as sound as they were the day they were born. It is the most efficacious Ointment. For pimples, blotches, scald heads, and scorbutic humours, it is equally efficacious.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

- | | | |
|--------------------|---------------|---------------|
| Bad Legs | Chilblains | Fistulas |
| Bad Breasts | Chapped Hands | Skin-diseases |
| Burns | Corns (Soft) | Scurvy |
| Blisters | Cancer (Soft) | Sore-heads |

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

Thirty years of experience has demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt, that JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT excels every other remedy for the cure of

- ASTHMA,
BRONCHITIS,
CONSUMPTION,
COUGHS AND COLDS,
CROUP AND WHOOPING COUGH,
SPITTING OF BLOOD,
AND ALL PULMONARY COMPLAINTS.

While many other Remedies have been lauded and extolled, and achieved a temporary reputation, JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT has continually increased in popularity until now there is scarcely an inhalable part of the globe where it is not used and highly appreciated. The following are a few of the many Certificates received:

Rev. VALENTINE GRAY, of the Methodist Church, writes from Centerville, Pa.,

Having experienced the beneficial effects of your Family Medicine, I would give it as an endorsement, and the treatment of several skillful physicians, proving of no avail, I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months I found myself entirely cured.

Dr. W. W. WINTER, of Milledgeville, Ill., writes:

It is with great pleasure that I can recommend your EXPECTORANT to those suffering from Bronchial Affections, having used it with the most satisfactory results.

Mr. NATHAN PENNYPACKER, of Upper Uwchland, Chester County, Pa., writes:

Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and the treatment of several skillful physicians proving of no avail, I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months I found myself entirely cured.

Rev. JOHN DOWLING, D. D., Pastor of the Brecon Baptist Church, N. Y., writes:

I have long known the virtues of your EXPECTORANT, and frequently tested them on myself and family, when afflicted with COUGHS or COLDS. I believe it to be one of the best remedies ever discovered for these maladies.

Mr. READING DOTY, of Twenty Mile Stand, Warren County, Ohio, says:

Recently I had an attack of ASTHMA, the most distressing of all diseases, and yesterday afternoon, after taking a short ride, I returned home almost unable to breathe. Through the persuasion of my wife I was led to try your EXPECTORANT. The first dose gave instant relief, and after the fourth dose I enjoyed a refreshing sleep, and my next morning arose in better health than for two years past.

Rev. J. J. WALKER, Missionary of the Presb. Board at Fetteburgh, Northern India, says:

Your EXPECTORANT was the means under Providence of curing a case of INCURABLE CONSUMPTION, which had been pronounced incurable by competent medical men.

MAURICE SCHWARTZ, of Concord, Wis., writes:

When the WHOOPING COUGH prevailed to some extent at our place, the disease seemed to afflict our physician, in various cases the EXPECTORANT was used, and it did not fail to cure.

JOHN NARRIMAN, Esq., of Stewartstown, N. H., writes:

Not long since, a child of mine had a very violent and distressing attack of CROUP, which must have proved fatal had not immediate relief been obtained. I commenced giving your EXPECTORANT, and within three quarters of an hour the child had taken six teaspoonfuls, breathed with perfect ease, a cure within six minutes having been effected.

Rev. REUBEN BAUCK, D. D., formerly President of Waterville College, Maine, writes:

For more than a dozen years I have recommended Dr. JAYNE'S FAMILY MEDICINE, and especially the EXPECTORANT. I know that these medicines are highly esteemed and frequently prescribed by some of the most respectable of the regular practitioners of medicine, and I am hesitant to commend them as a valuable addition to our materia medica, and a safe as well as eminently beneficial remedy for the disease.

DAVID TURNER, of Cassville, Huntington county, Penn., writes:

My son, aged nineteen years, was confined to his bed for three months, his disease being CROUP, and especially attending phlegm to be CONSUMPTION. Failing to obtain any relief from the treatment he had been undergoing, I procured for him JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, and through its use he has been entirely restored to health.

Mr. JOAN HENRY, of Burlington, Bradford county, Penn., writes:

For two years, my son was afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION, and especially the EXPECTORANT. I know that these medicines are highly esteemed and frequently prescribed by some of the most respectable of the regular practitioners of medicine, and I am hesitant to commend them as a valuable addition to our materia medica, and a safe as well as eminently beneficial remedy for the disease.

Mr. PRISTON EWING, of Lacoste, Harrison county, Indiana, writes:

Being afflicted with BRONCHITIS for the space of three years, in each spring I was obliged to relinquish my duties, and to leave my home, and failing to obtain any relief from the physicians whom I consulted, I gave the EXPECTORANT a trial. After using it for a few days, my throat was much relieved, and by its continued use my throat is now not only clear of any disease.

AT THIS EXHIBITION, and all of DR. J. JAYNE'S FAMILY MEDICINES, are sold by CURTIS & MOORE and LANGLEY BROS., Victoria, from whom may also be obtained Dr. Jayne's Medical Almanac and Guide to Health, (1863-1864)

The Great Domestic Revolution.

HARPER TWELVETEENS' SOAP

POWDER for Washing without Rubbing has created an entire change and thoroughly revolution ized the management of the "Family Wash," and there are no reasons why the old, slovenly and dis gusting happiness destroying practice of wash ing, unscientific, and barbarous as to be con sidered a great national disgrace!—Harper Twel vetees' Soap Powder saves time, trouble, money, fire, soap, "tongue and temper," and entirely abol ishes the "female slavery" of the tub and the present

domestic happiness destroying practice of wash ing. It contains nothing injurious, but is as safe for the fabric and skin as the best soap! Only
